

§ 90.08 INOCULATION AGAINST RABIES.

Every owner of a dog, cat, or ferret four months of age or older, shall each year cause said dog, cat, or ferret to be inoculated against rabies by a licensed veterinarian. However, if the vaccine used is one recognized by the State of Illinois, Department of Agriculture, for a three year period of immunity and is properly administered, the interval between inoculations may be extended to three years. At such time as new rabies vaccines are recognized or revisions in recommendations are made by the State of Illinois, Department of Agriculture, the Administrator may issue a directive authorizing their implementation.
